Through the Eyes of Farrar Newberry reproduces all of the newspaper articles known to be written by local historian Farrar Newberry. Newberry's writings appeared frequently in the Southern Standard and Siftings Herald between 1958 and 1967. This material chronicles Clark County's history, preserving the stories of the events and people that shaped this area of Arkansas. As such, these articles represent an excellent starting point for local history research in the Clark County area. A wealth of information is to be found among these pages, and much of the material records Newberry's own recollections.
