Meet the Music Library Student Workers!

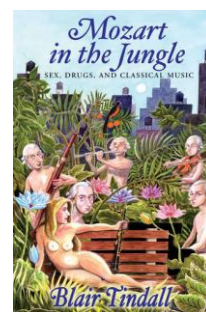

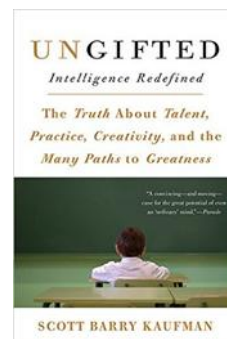

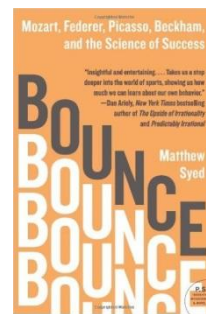

We have eight new faces and four returning ones. They are a great group, and they are happy to help you in the music library from 8:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

There are several new items for your enjoyment and use. These include scores,

New Items!

recordings, books on musical instruction and study, and literature on music. In this "Notes" issue, we are highlighting some new books that can be categorized loosely as literature on the psychological aspects of learning and playing music and auditioning. These titles include Bounce: Mozart, Federer, Picasso, Beckham, and the Science of Success by Matthew Syed; Audition Success: An Olympic Sports Psychologist Teaches Performing Artists How to Win by Don Greene; and Ungifted: Intelligence Redefined by Scott Kaufman. About Ungifted, Kirkus Reviews says, "An inspiring, informative affirmation of human potential." Parade calls it "A convincing – and moving – case for the great potential of even an 'ordinary' mind."

Also we have a controversial memoir by Blair Tindall, Mozart in the Jungle: Sex, Drugs, and Classical Music. The Boston Herald calls it "A scathing, eye-opening look at life in the orchestra pits."

Who chooses these new items?

YOU, the music faculty and students are responsible for 95% of new acquisitions. If you'd like to make a request, just email the music librarian (phillipsc@obu.edu), or drop by! If the librarian is out, put a note in our suggestion box!

NEW Student Workers, continued!

These are the friendly faces you'll see when you walk in our door.

You are welcome to stop by for COFFEE on MONDAY mornings!
