Example Table of Contents

Table of Contents

List of Tables vii

List of Figures viii

List of Abbreviations ix

Acknowledgments x

Chapter 1: Introduction 1
- The Open Access Movement 2
  - Libraries Leading the Charge 2
    - Historical Overview of OER 6
    - Current Practices 9
- Open Access and Children's Materials 10
  - The Missing Piece 12

Chapter 2: Public Library Storytimes 13
- The Importance of Children's Literature and Child Development 13
- How Public Library Storytimes Encourage and Enhance Child Development Through a Variety of Story Related Activities 15
  - Story or Flannel Boards 17
  - Poetry, Nursery Rhymes, and Finger Plays 19
    - Clapping Games 20
    - Full Body Action Games 23
  - Music and Songs 25
  - Arts and Crafts 29
- Choosing the Right Book 33
  - Multicultural and Diverse Books 39
  - Books for Infant Storytimes 47
  - Books for Toddler Storytimes 52
  - Books for Preschool Storytimes 59
    - Daycare Centers and Other Large Groups 65
  - Books for Grade School Storytimes 68

Chapter 3: Current Practices by Public Librarians: Open Educational Resources 74
- Uses of OER and Open Access Tools by Children's Librarians 80
  - Storytime OER 88
- Current Evaluation Practices by Librarians for OER Materials 92
  - General Practices 94
  - How Children's Librarians Currently Evaluate Children's OER Materials 107

Chapter 4: Currently Available Open Educational Resources for Public Libraries 111
- OER for Public Librarians 118

OER for Youth Services Librarians 126
Children's Literature and Other Open Access Books 139
Open Access Children's Materials 145
Poetry 151
Music and Songs 156
Arts and Crafts 162
Choosing and Evaluating Open Educational Resources for Children's Storytimes 169

Chapter 5: The Potentials for Developing OER and Open Access Tools for Public Librarians 177
Developing OER for Children's Librarians 193
Developing OER for Public Library Storytimes: What's Needed 229
Developing a Repository 247
Finding Partners 259
Creating OER and Open Access Tools 272
Putting It All Together and Publishing 291
Getting the Word Out 303
Conclusions 319

References 325

Appendix A: List of Books by Story Time Theme (and By Age) 340

Appendix B: List of Poems, Nursery Rhymes, Finger Plays, Clapping Games, Full Body Action Rhymes by Theme 380

Appendix C: Music and Songs by Theme (and By Age) 413

Appendix C: List of Open Educational Resources for Storytimes 438

Appendix D: Resources for Evaluating Open Access Children's Materials 444