Mid-winter notes...

And the winner is...
Bryson Clegg! He guessed wrong, but his name was drawn out of the hat, thanks for playing!

The subject of last month's trivia question was none other than Dr. Jon Secrest, who started directing at 17, made pottery, and strongly considered being an art major in college!

NEW TRIVIA QUESTION!

Who among our music faculty has this hobby: designing and creating large stained glass works?

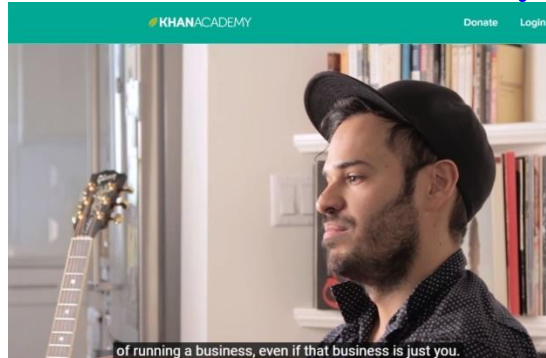

You don't have to guess right, just guess!

A former OBU student, Ben Reynolds, passed away last year. He studied piano at OBU in the late 1990s. His parents donated his large collection of piano literature to the OBU music library. We are very grateful to Ben's family for this generous gift, and will let you know when the scores/books are through being processed and available for check-out.

Don't make assumptions due to the slant of his hat! This person has practical advice for the self-employed artist.
